Dear Dr. Medina,

I have received your email from Sunday evening.

- I do not recall discussing a motion to strike previously.
- Microsoft does not consent to your motion or it being brought ex parte. Microsoft will have an opportunity to file a response to any pleadings you file. Accordingly, the second sentence of paragraph #3 in your declaration is inaccurate and I suggest that you change it to this: "She indicated that Microsoft did not consent to the motion or it being filed ex parte."

Finally, I note that your email references a notice of motion, motion to strike, and proposed order that you did not provide. The only attachments were a proof of service and a declaration.

Best,
Judy
